PROFILE

Kia ora! I'm a professional analog and digital photographer based in Wellington, with the ability to move around for projects where necessary.

I have been freelancing for 6 years and I am absolutely passionate about photography, taking pride in what I do and always striving to deliver high quality work. I bring extensive experience and have worked across a wide range of environments, from film and theatre productions, to promotional events, parties and weddings. I am always adapting to the unique energy and needs of each moment.
